			To save elevation gain and distance, we recommend taking the Bellevue cable car from Les Houches. This saves 781m (2562ft) in elevation gain and 1.3km (0.81mi) in distance. Follow Segment C alt. Lift to arrive at the bottom station from Les Houches. The Col de Voza is the first Col on the Tour du Mont Blanc at an altitude of 1650m (5413ft).
			Hut Hike	T1	2.1	1.3	0:40	2	7	335	1099
			If you took the Bellevue cable car, follow D alt. Lift to Bionnassay for the standard Tour du Mont Blanc. The Col de Tricot 2120m (6955ft) variant is a great option if you are staying in or beyond Les Contamines-Montjoie. It is usually snow-free from early July. This route is recommended in good weather only. The main challenges are the steep descent from the Col to Auberge de Miage (can be very slippery, especially if wet) and the added elevation gain and loss. From Les Houches, this variant route adds a distance of 1.9km (1.18mi) and an elevation gain of 488m (1601ft). If you choose to do this variant, follow Segment D alt. Lift to Auberge de Miage from the top of the Bellevue cable car. If you have hiked up to Col de Voza, follow Segments D alt. from Col de Voza to Auberge de Miage. From Miage, take Segments E alt. A to Auberge du Truc and then Segment E alt. B. To Les Contamines-Montjoie.

			Hut Hike	This route crosses the Col du Bonhomme at 2329m (7641ft). In good weather and after mid-July, when this segment is mostly snow-free, it is possible to take the Col des Fours 2665m (8743ft) Variant, Segment IJ alt. Instead of descending to Les Chapieux, replacing Segments I and J. If you are staying in Les Chapieux or Bourg St. Maurice, this is not possible, but you can take a short side trip of less than 1 km and 193 m. of ascent to the Col and then return the way you came to continue.	T2	5.3	3.3	1:40	0	0	895	2936
			Shuttle / Taxi to Bourg St. Maurice	There is a shuttle service between Les Chapieux and Bourg St. Maurice, which usually runs between mid-June and mid-September. In June and September, there is usually only 1 departure from Bourg St. Maurice early morning and 1 return from Les Chapieux in the evening. In July and August, there are about 3 departures from Bourg St. Maurice and 5 departures from Les Chapieux each day. The estimated cost of a one-way trip is 8€ and an additional 5€ if you are travelling to or from Ville des Glaciers. Tickets can be purchased in the Chapieux at the ticket machine in cash or by contactless credit card. In Bourg St. Maurice, you can buy your tickets at the ticket machine located near the tourist office. If you are outside this season or the times do not suit your plan, it is best to pre-book a taxi for an estimated cost of 140€ return (this may be more depending on group size. We recommend contacting Taxi Mont Blanc contact@taxi-montblanc.com +33 4 50 93 62 07 and letting them know that you are an Alpenventures customer) (Shuttle / Taxi NOT INCLUDED) https://en.lesarcs.com/hiking/les-chapieux				0:35

*Estimated Time

Estimated time is based on the German Alpine Club's (DAV) pace measurement of 4.2 km. per hour and 400 m. elevation gain per hour. This measurement is designed for hikers who regularly hike in the Alps. If you are not used to hiking in this type of terrain, you can expect your time to be slower.

Time for stops is not included. Actual time will vary.

**HD Hiking Difficulty

**HD is the technical difficulty rating for the segment, using the Hiking Difficulty scale introduced by the Swiss Alpine Club (SAC). The difficulty rating refers to the most technical spot on the segment, even if it is only a few meters long, and not necessarily to the entire segment.
